Insertion of new Chapter
VIAB.

'CHAPTER VIAB

PREVENTION AND CONTROL OF POLLUTION AND PROTECTION OF INLAND WATER

54D. In this Chapter, unless the context otherwise requires,— Definitions.

(a) "hazardous chemical" or "obnoxious substance" means any chemical or substance, as the case may be, which has been designated as such by rules made under this Chapter;

(b) "oil" means any persistent oil such as crude oil, heavy diesel oil, lubricating oil and white oil, whether carried on board a tanker as cargo or fuel;

(c) "oily mixture" means a mixture with any oil content.

54E. No oil or oily mixture, hazardous chemical or obnoxious substance from a mechanically propelled vessel shall be discharged in inland water:

Prohibition as to discharge of oil, oily mixture, etc., in the inland water.

Provided that nothing in this section shall apply to the discharge of such oil or oily mixture, hazardous chemical or obnoxious substance from a mechanically propelled vessel for the purpose of securing the safety of a mechanically propelled vessel, preventing damage to a mechanically propelled vessel, cargo or saving of life at inland water.

54F. (1) The owner or operator of an inland port, at cargo or passenger terminal, as the case may be, shall provide reception facilities to discharge oil, oily mixture, hazardous chemical or obnoxious substance at such inland port, cargo or passenger terminal.

Reception
inland port, etc.

(2) The owner or operator of an inland port, at cargo or passenger terminal, as the case may be, providing reception facilities at any inland port, a cargo or passenger terminal may make charges for the use of the facilities at such rates and may impose such conditions in respect of use thereof as may be approved by notification in the Official Gazette, by the State Government in respect of the inland port, cargo or passenger terminal.

(3) For the purposes of minimizing the pollution already caused, or for preventing the pollution threatened to be caused, the State Government may direct, by order in writing, the owner or operator of an inland port, at cargo or passenger terminal to provide or arrange for the provision of such pollution containment equipments and pollutant removing materials at such inland port, cargo and passenger terminal as may be specified in the order.

54G. (1) Any surveyor or any person authorised under this Act in this behalf may, at any reasonable time, enter and inspect any inland port, at cargo or passenger terminal for the purposes of—inspection, etc.

Power of entry,

(a) ensuring that the provisions of this Chapter are complied with;

(b) verifying whether such inland port, at cargo or passenger terminal is provided with the pollution containment equipment and pollutant removing materials in conformity with the order of the State Government or the rules made under this Chapter; and

(c) satisfying himself about the adequacy of the measures taken to prevent pollution.

(2) If the surveyor finds that the inland port, at cargo or passenger terminal is not provided with the aforesaid equipment and materials, he shall give notice to the owner or operator of such inland port, cargo or passenger terminal, as the case may be, a notice in writing pointing out the deficiency and also what in his opinion is requisite to remedy the said deficiency.

(3) No owner or operator of such inland port, at cargo or passenger terminal, as the case may be, served with the notice under sub-section (2), shall proceed with any work at such inland port, cargo or passenger terminal, as the case may be, until he obtains a certificate signed by the surveyor to the effect that the inland port, cargo or passenger terminal, as the case may be, is properly provided with the aforesaid equipment and materials in conformity with the rules made under this Chapter.

54H. (1) The Central Government may make rules for the purposes of this Chapter.

(2) In particular, and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may—

(a) prescribe the designated hazardous chemical and obnoxious substance under clause (a) of section 54D;

(b) prescribe fitment of oily mixture treatment equipment on shore and on board in certain cases;

(c) prescribe details of reception facilities at inland port, cargo or passenger terminal;

(d) prescribe the forms and record books for inland port, cargo or passenger terminal and the manner in which such books shall be maintained, the nature of entries to be made therein, the time and circumstances in which such entries shall be made, the custody and disposal thereof and all other matters relating thereto;

(e) any other matter, which is to be, or may be, prescribed.'

13. After section 62C of the principal Act, the following sections shall be inserted, namely:—

'62D. Whoever contravenes any provision of Chapter VIAB or of any rule made thereunder, shall be punishable with imprisonment which may extend to one year, or with fine which may extend to fifty thousand rupees, or with both.

62E. (1) Where an offence under Chapter VIAB has been committed by a company, every person who, at the time the offence was committed, was in charge of, and was responsible to, the company for the conduct of the business of the company, as well as the company shall be deemed to be guilty of the contravention and shall be liable to be proceeded against and punished accordingly:

Provided that nothing in this sub-section shall render any such person liable to any punishment provided in this Act, if he proves that the offence was committed without his knowledge or that he exercised all due diligence to prevent the commission of such offence.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1), where an offence under Chapter VIAB has been committed by a company, and it is proved that the offence was committed with the consent or connivance of, or is attributable to any neglect on the part of, any director, manager, secretary or other officer of the company, such director, manager, secretary or other officer shall also be deemed to be guilty of that offence and shall be liable to be proceeded against and punished accordingly.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this section,—

(a) “company” means any body corporate and includes a firm or other association of individuals; and

(b) “director”, in relation to a firm, means a partner in the firm.’

14. (1) If any difficulty arises in giving effect to the provisions of this Act, the Central Government may, by order, published in the Official Gazette, make such provisions, not inconsistent with the provisions of the said Act as amended by this Act or this Act as may appear to be necessary or expedient for the purpose of removing the difficulty:

Power to remove difficulties.

Provided that no order shall be made under this section after the expiry of two years from the date on which this Act comes into force.

(2) Every order made under this section shall, as soon as may be after it is made, be laid before each House of Parliament.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The Inland Vessels Act, 1917 was last amended in the year 1977. Since then, several major developments have taken place in the inland water transport sector. Some of the important developments are (i) declaration of three waterways as National Waterways, viz. the Allahabad-Haldia stretch of the Ganga-Bhagirathi-Hooghly rivers (National Waterway No. 1), the Sadiya-Dhubri stretch of the Brahmaputra river (National Waterway No. 2) and the Kollam-Kottapuram stretch of West Coast Canal and Champakara and Udyogmandal canals (National Waterway No. 3); (ii) establishment of the Inland Waterways Authority of India for regulation and development of inland waterways; and (iii) considerable increase in inland water transport activity and consequently increase in demand for trained personnel for manning of vessels. In view of the expanding inland water transport activities, the need felt is that the said Act should be amended to take into account the operational difficulties, present scenario of inland water transport, compatibility of insurance for mechanically propelled vessels against third party risks in line with the provisions of the Motor Vehicle Act, 1988, prevention and control of pollution in inland waters, etc. Accordingly, it is proposed to amend the Inland Vessels Act, 1917.

2. The salient features of the proposed amendment Bill are as follows:—

- (i) extension of inland water limits, by amending the definition of inland water, which would result in extensive use of inland waters by inland vessels which otherwise are not permitted to go beyond prescribed limits;
- (ii) inclusion of dumb barges in the definition of mechanically propelled vessels, which are currently outside the ambit of the Inland Vessels Act, 1917;
- (iii) dividing the inland water area into three zones based on maximum significant wave height criteria through notification by the respective State Governments to facilitate safety of vessels by providing for suitable construction and manning norms based on operating conditions and also to provide for the flexibility of classification of inland waters into different zones;
- (iv) extending validity of certificate of registration, competency or licence of crew of inland vessels issued by one State Government to other States in order to provide relief to the vessel owners and the crew and issuance of temporary permit by the surveyor pending the issue of certificate of survey in the interest of overall development of inland water transport sector;
- (v) liberalising the criteria for transfer of certificate of registration to avoid hassles to the owners carrying out inter-State operation;
- (vi) to make provision for induction of suitable trained manpower from Army, Navy and Coast Guard into inland water transport fold to address the problem of shortage of manpower in inland water transport sector;
- (vii) amendment of section 54C so as to make section 134 and Chapters X, XI and XII of the Motor Vehicles Act, 1988, applicable in relation to mechanically propelled vessels with certain modifications and also to provide insurance of vessels against third party risks, compensation for accidents and Claims Tribunal, etc;
- (viii) amendment of section 52 of the said Act which empowers the State Governments for prescribing requirements of (i) hull, equipment and machinery in respect of inland mechanically propelled vessels, (ii) life saving appliances, and (iii) apparatus required for communication and navigation in the interest of enhanced safety;

(ix) insertion of new Chapter VIAB in the said Act which inter alia provides for prohibition of discharge of oil, oily mixture, etc., in the inland water, reception facility to discharge oil, oily mixture, hazardous chemical or obnoxious chemical at inland port, power of entry and inspection and power to Central Government for making rules for prevention and control of pollution. It also provides punishment for contravention of the provisions of this Chapter and rules made thereunder;

(x) opportunity has also been taken to omit obsolete provisions of the said Act.

3. The Bill seeks to achieve the above objects.

T. R. BAALU.

MEMORANDUM REGARDING DELEGATED LEGISLATION

Clause 8 of the Bill seeks to amend section 30 of the Act which empowers the State Governments to make rules for grant of certificate of service based on the period of service required for the person who has served in the Coast Guard, Indian Navy or regular Army.

Clause 10 of the Bill seeks to amend section 52 of the Act which empowers the State Governments for prescribing requirements of (i) hull, equipment and machinery in respect of inland mechanically propelled vessels, (ii) life saving appliances, and (iii) apparatus required for communication and navigation in the interest of enhanced safety.

Clause 12 of the Bill seeks to insert a new Chapter VI AB to provide for prevention and control of pollution and protection of Inland Waterways. Proposed section 54H of the said Chapter empowers the Central Government to make rules for the purpose of this Chapter. Specifically such rule may (a) prescribe the designated hazardous chemical and obnoxious substance under clause (a) of section 54D; (b) prescribe fitment of oily mixture treatment equipment on shore and on board in certain cases; (c) prescribe details of reception facilities at inland port, cargo or passenger terminal; (d) prescribe the forms and record books for inland port, cargo or passenger terminal and the manner in which such books shall be maintained, the nature of entries to be made therein, the time and circumstances in which such entries shall be made, the custody and disposal thereof and all other matters relating thereto; (e) any other matter, which is to be, or may be, prescribed.

The matters with regard to which the Central Government or the State Government, as the case may be, is proposed to be empowered to make rules are matters of detail. The rules made by the Central Government shall be laid before each House of Parliament and the rules made by the State Government shall be laid before the Legislature of that State. The delegation of legislative power is, therefore, of a normal character.

IIBILL NO. CXXV OF 2005

A Bill further to amend the Protection of Human Rights Act, 1993.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The National Human Rights Commission was set up in October, 1993 under the Protection of Human Rights Act, 1993 for promotion and better protection of human rights. The National Human Rights Commission (NHRC) set up an advisory Committee under the Chairmanship of Justice A.H. Ahmedi, former Chief Justice of India to assess the need for amendments to the Act. Based on the recommendations of the Justice Ahmedi Committee, the NHRC has suggested various amendments to the said Act. The various amendments proposed by the NHRC and certain other issues relating to the scope and ambit of the Act have been examined and it has been decided to amend the Act.

2. The Bill, inter alia, seeks to—

- (a) clarify that the Chairpersons of NHRC and State Human Rights Commission (SHRCs) are distinct from the Members of the respective Commission;
- (b) make judges of the Supreme Court with at least three years service as such to be eligible to be appointed as the Chairperson of the NHRC;
- (c) make judges of the High Courts with at least five years of service as such to be eligible to be appointed as Chairperson of the SHRCs' and a District Judge with at least seven years of experience in that capacity to be a Member of the SHRC;
- (d) enable the NHRC to transfer complaints received by it to the concerned SHRC;
- (e) enable the NHRC to visit any jail or detention centre without prior intimation to the State Government;
- (f) enable the Chairperson and Members of the NHRC to address their resignations in writing to the President and the Chairperson and Members of the SHRCs to the Governor of the State concerned;
- (g) clarify that the absence of any member in the Selection Committee for selection of the Chairperson and Members of the NHRC or the SHRCs will not vitiate the decisions taken by such Committees;
- (h) enable the NHRC and the SHRCs to make interim recommendations during an inquiry;
- (i) empower the NHRC and its Chairperson to delegate certain powers and functions of the Commission to the Secretary-General of the NHRC;
- (j) provide that the Chairperson of the National Commission for the Scheduled Castes and the Chairperson of the National Commission for the Scheduled Tribes shall be deemed to be Members of the NHRC;
- (k) enable the Central Government to notify future international covenants and conventions to which the Act would be applicable.

3. The Bill seeks to achieve the above objects.

FINANCIAL MEMORANDUM

Clause 7 of the Bill seeks to substitute section 8 of the Protection of Human Rights Act, 1993 relating to the terms and conditions of service of the Chairperson and Member of the Commission. This amendment is consequential to the amendment made in clause (g) of section 2 of the said Act vide sub-clause (b) of clause 2 of the bill to clarify that the Chairperson of the National Human Rights Commission is distinct from the Members of the Commission. Similarly, clause 16 of the Bill seeks to substitute section 26 of the Act relating to the terms and conditions of service of the Chairperson and Members of the State Human Rights Commission.

The above-mentioned amendments are of a technical nature and do not involve any additional expenditure, either recurring or non-recurring, than as at present, from the Consolidated Fund of the India or the Consolidated Fund of any State.

MEMORANDUM REGARDING DELEGATED LEGISLATION

Clause 7 of the Bill seeks to substitute section 8 of the Protection of Human Rights Act, 1993 relating to the terms and conditions of service of the Chairperson and Members of the National Human Rights Commission. The proposed section 8 empowers the Central Government to lay down by rules the salaries and allowances payable to, and the other terms and conditions of service of, the Chairperson and Members of the National Human Rights Commission. As per the provisions contained in sub-section (3) of section 40 of the Act, such rules are required to be laid before Parliament.

2. Clause 16 of the Bill seeks to substitute section 26 of the Act relating to the terms and conditions of service of the Chairperson and Members of the State-Human Rights Commissions. The new section 26 empowers the State Governments to lay down by rules the salaries and allowances payable to, and the other terms and conditions of service of, the Chairpersons and Members of the State Human Rights Commissions. As per the provisions contained in sub-section (3) of section 41 of the Act, such rules are required to be laid before the concerned State Legislature.

3. Clause 18 of the Bill seeks to insert a new section 40B in the Protection of Human Rights Act, 1993 relating to the powers of the National Human Rights Commission to make regulations with the previous approval of the Central Government to carry out the provisions of the Act. The matters in respect of which the regulations may be made relate to the procedure to be followed by the commission under sub-section (2) of section 10, the returns and statistics to be furnished by the State Human Rights Commissions and any other matter which has to be or may be specified by regulations. Sub-section (3) of the proposed new section 40B provides that the regulations made by the National Human Rights Commission under the Act shall be required to be laid before Parliament.

4. The aforesaid matters in respect of which rules may be made by the Central Government or the State Governments or regulations may be made by the Commission relate to matters of procedure or administrative details and it is not practicable to provide for them in the Bill itself. The delegation of legislative power is, therefore, of a normal character.

YOGENDRA NARAIN,
Secretary-General.
